by JAKE JACOB Bill Lytal, Bureau of Census, U.S. Department of Commerce, will supervise the new Hancock County census, to be taken this summer.

Interviewers will be selected from among approximately 100 applicants expected to register with the State Employment Service for a position on the census team.

Alton A. Kellar, president, Hancock County Board of Supervisors, said Monday that the Hancock office of the employment service would process the applicants prior to their being interviewed by the census supervisor.

Lytal said his testing of applicants would begin June 14, at a location still to be determined by the supervisors.

Under the terms of agreement with the Bureau of Census, the county must supply approximately 1,000 square feet of office space, furniture, utilities, and telephone.

The tests will begin at 9 a.m., with 25 applicants a time taking the interview and other examination.

The census supervisor will also be responsible for selecting the best qualified for the work.

Percy R. Millard, regional director, US Census Bureau, said that applicants for the position of interviewer must be citizens of the United States and be at least 18 years of age. The prospective interviewers should be of good appearance, physically able to do considerale walkling and climbing of stars, write a legible hand, and mentally able entering the political scene last December when he ran for Finance Commissioner to fill the post vacated when Clarence Ladner resigned. Bennett won the commission seat after entering the primary and winning in a runoff by a slim margin. Last month he tossed his hat in the ring for mayor, facing three strong opponents. In that race, he ran second to present mayor Warren Carver, but gained the Democrat nomination by winning the runoff by 214 votes over the veteran Carver. With four races, two primaries and two runoffs, behind him, Bennett faced another veteran in the General Election, Elliott, a former president of the Hancock County Board of Supervisors." Randall Short, 16. The hole, was allegedly left in the beach by the Corps of Engineers following their pumping sand from the area to form a hurricane protection berm along the seawall. Previous to the berm (or beach) being set in place, waters of the Mississippi Sound came right up to the seawall along Beach Blvd., a factor leading to the road's almost complete destruction following Hurricane Betsy in 1965. Alton A. Kellar, supervisor prexy, said the county has made several requests of the Corps of Engineers to fill the hole but so far without result. "Warning signs have been posted and were in place Saturday when the drownings occured but were disregarded by the people concerned,"

Kellar said. Mayor John Longo, Jr. of Waveland, present in the Courthouse, said his police would make every effort to increase patrols in the area. He indicated that swimmers continually disregarded the warning signs and doubted the complete effectiveness of such increased police activity.

Max Berns, manager, Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, said his organization was very much involved with the situation and had spearheaded the effort now underway to have the Corps fill in the hole.

Berns said the last drowning in 1965 had resulted in the chamber directors declaring such to be in the public interest and urged pecule in authority to instigate action.

The persons drowned Saturday were part of a group of some 200 members visiting the coast from two New

The revision of the U.S. Standards is an attempt to bring the quality of potatoes more into line with what consumers want. So potatoes in bags labeled U.S. No. 1 now should be cleaner and firmer and have fewer defects than in the past.

When shopping for potatoes, look for those that are firm, well shaped, and smooth, with few eyes.

The potatoes should be free from large cuts, growth cracks, bruises, skinned areas, and decay. Some amount of skinning is normal in new potatoes, but avoid new potatoes with large skinned and discolored areas.

Don't buy potatoes that/are green. Greening is caused by exposure to natural or artificial light. Sometimes only the skin is affected, but greening may penetrate the flesh. The green portions contain the aldaloid solanin which causes a bitter flavor and is said to be poisonous to some people.

Aslo avoid badly sprouted or shriveled potatoes. You may find potatoes with second growth. These irregular, knobsnaped growth are considered defects because they are likely to cause quite a bit of waste.

A "smell test" can also help you select potatoes. If the potatoes smell musty or moldy, the flavor may be affected. It is impossible to detect internal defects without cutting the potato, but if you find that some of the potatoes you have bought are hollow in the center or have severe internal discoloration, take them back to your grocer for replacement. Consumer unit bags generally carry information about the contents such as the type and origin of the potatoes, the grade,

HANDLING AND STORAGE TIPS

Potatoes are nearly as delicate as apples. They can get bruised all the way from the digging machine in the field to your home storage bin. So handle the potatoes you buy with

If stored properly, general purpose and baking potatoes will keep for several months; new potatoes will keep for several Look potatoes over before you store them. Set aside any that are bruised or cracked and use them first. Don't wash potatoes before you store them. As it does with most other fresh produce, dampness increases the likelihood of Store potatoes in a cool (45 degree to 50 degree F., if possible,) dark place, with good ventilation.

Potatoes stored at 70 degree to 80 degree F. should be used within a week. The higher temperature often causes sprouting

Potatoes stored below 40 degree F. for a week or more may develop a sweet taste because some of the starch changes to sugar. To improve their flavor, store them at a higher temperature for 1 or 2 weeks before using them.

QUESTIONS ABOUT POTATOES

Are Potatoes more fattening than other foods? No. A boiled, pressure-cooked or baked medium-sized potato provides only about 100 carlories (approximately the same amount as a large apple or banana) and has no more carbohydrate value than, these fruits. It's the fats, gravies, and sauces commonly served with potatoes that increase the calories. Fried potatoes, for example, may be 2 to 4 times as high in calories as a plain baked potato.

What causes internal defects? One internal defect, hollow heart (an irregular hole at the center of the potato) is caused by excessively rapid growth.

Another common internal defect is internal discoloration. Internal discoloration may be caused by improper field or storage conditions, freezing, or disease. Each causes a different type of discoloration. Do not use potatoes with severe internal discoloration.

Why is the flesh red in some red-skinned potatoes? These potatoes were probably artifically colored. Some packers believe the coloring makes the potatoes more attractive to

Under the revised U.S. No. 1 grade, artifical coloring which is unsightly, which conceals any other defects that cause damage or which causes more than 5 percent waste when removed is considered a defect. If you find that coloring has penetrated the flesh and causes excessive waste, return the potatoes to your

What should I do if I find a rock in a bag of potatoes? Simply return the rock to your grocer, who will give you the rock's weight in potatoes. Rocks sometimes get into bags of potatoes because most harvesting and packing today is done by machine. Many rocks resemble potatoes in both shape and

The water is looking good in all the local rivers and bayous. From the few reports that I got this past week, fishing seems to have been pretty good. They're catching speckled trout, flounders, croakers, sheepshead and a few reds out front.

I've been noticing a lot of people foundering and soft-shell crabbing out front, but they don't seem to be doing too well. The soft-shells just aren't showing up in numbers like they used to. I believe one reason for the decline in soft-shells is there's a lot more pressure on them. Just take a ride down the beach on a good night and you can see that for yourself.

For all you fishermen that would like to try to get a little more for your prize catch, other than a good meal. The 15th annual Biloxi Kiwanis Club Fishing Rodeo starts today and will run through Sunday. The scales will close at 7 P.M. each day.

Now that summer is here, that means that you will be spending more time in, on, and around the water. There's no reason to fear the water, but you should have the proper respect for it. You should never swim alone. We never intend to have anything happen to us, but if it does at least there will be .579 someone to help you or get help for you.

You also should have a life-preserver handy for every person on your boat. You should wear your life-preserver especially while under power, if you are thrown from your boat and rendered unconscious the life-preserver won't do you any good RIE .500 if you aren't wearing it. Having a little respect for the water 10.Shawn Henderson RIE .500 can make the difference between a happy summer and a tragic Benny Starita made a nice catch of bass this week, one was 7 lbs. and 231/2" in length.

ANSLEY: There were some nice specks and flounders caught along the shoreline between Campbells Outside Bayou and Bayou Toncrey this past weekend. There also have been some nice catches of specks in the Louisiana Marshes. We have live bait. (Mrs. Hall, LaFrances's Fishing Camp).

BAYOU CADDY: There have been several real good catches around Halfmoon Island and Three Oaks Bayou. We really need some rain. We have live and dead bait, we also have ice. (Mr. Bordage, Bordage's Fishing Camp)

PEARLINGTON: The Pearl is looking real good. The tide is low early in the morning and rises all day, then falls at night. There are some salt-water fish being caught around Little Lake, the mouth of the river and the mouth of Mullatto Bayou. You stand a better chance with live bait. Bass fishing is picking up, the best time to fish bass now is early in the morning. Bream fishing should also be good. (Mr. Roy Baxter, Pearl River Mariner)

JOE'S BAYOU: There have been specks, reds and large croakers caught around Grassy Point this past week. The water is real good in the Jourdan River. The water is salty all the way up into the bayou. The fresh-water fishing should be good up the river. We now have plenty of live bait. (Mrs. Cospelich, Joe's Bayou Marina)

All you fishermen that like to catch your own shrimp for your freezer, the Mississippi shrimp season will begin this Monday. So you better get your shrimping rig ready. If you haven't bought your license yet, you can purchase one at either Carmel's Seafood in Lakeshore, or at the Pass Christian Harbor.

Until next week: May the fish of your life come your way

It took 10 years and 22 lives before a real hazard to life was recongnized by many in our community. Something should have been done a long time ago to correct it. These are afterthoughts to last week's drowning of six visitors to The hazardous area was put off limits by action of the Hancock County Board of Supervisors Tuesday on a motion by

Hancock County Civil Defense Director Bobby Boudin said that he was told two weeks ago by the Corps of Engineers that the hole will be filled in eight weeks. The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce has been working on this project, as well as others, for sometime but the Corp of Engineers or someone seems to be dragging their feet

Our local officials are trying to do their best to do what ever they can to keep others from becoming victims.

Civil Defense Director Bobby Boudin erected signs a month ago but people seem to ignore them. Just how much attention do we pay to signs? Opinion/Ellis Cuavas

If you drive down Highway 90 or I-10 at the speed limit of 55 miles per hour and see how may cars and trucks will pass you up, you will see what we mean. It is tragic for the families of the victims to suffer the loss of their loved

It is also tragic for the bad publicity our community receives when something like this happens. We just hope that our officials will be able to keep people from entering the off limits area. You as a citizen can help by not using this area, warning your friends and visitors about the hazard and by paying attention to signs. We just wonder if there are still other hazardous holes left along our beach front from previous sand pumpings?

A few roses this week. First to the Most Rev. Joseph L. Howze who was installed this week as the first bishop of the newly established Roman Catholic Diocese of Biloxi. Secondly, to the establishment of the new Farmers Market and to those who worked so long and hard to make the dream come true.

There were a few surprises in the General Election in Bay St. Louis Tuesday, but very few. We think the surprises were generally the margins of victory in some of the races.

On the real side, Buck's Pocket is now part of the Alabama State Parks System and is really a very nice place for tourist. But the legend goes on... Wonder where the losers head down

Don't forget next Tuesday is Flag Day. Get out Old Glory and fly it high and project.." seems to indicate the sand berm dredged following Hurricane Col. Donald Pope, deputy district engineer, Mobile, reportedly stated following Saturday's drownings that the Corps will move with haste to complete its hole eradication project.

"This does not mean we will be there tomorrow or the next day but it does mean we are aware of the tragedy which has occurred and we will do everything that we can under the rules governing us to have that depression

"We have authority to begin dredging out from Bayou Cadet (Bayou Caddy) and we can use spoils from this to fill in that depression.

'The material is not what we would like to use but we do not have the authority to go elsewhere and get the sand-type material we need, but at least it will eliminate the hazardous features of the present bole.

"At a later date Washington could give us authority to get the type of sandy material we would like to use but at least for the moment though this could save at least one life." the colonel reportedly said.

He said that his files show that in June 1958 the Hancock County Board of Supervisors were given authority to dredge some 85,000 yards (of beach) and one of those spots was in front of Gulfside Assembly, adding that the Corps did not come into the picture until discussions Monday said that to their knowledge the only pieces of beach prior to the Corps' dredging operation were small, isolated "...patches of sand.." like that originally at the bottom of Ulman Avenue in Bay

Apart from banning all swimming from the beach in front of the premises, the supervisors are to write Gulfside Assembly to again ask they caution all their guests concerning the perils inherrent in ignoring the danger signs.

The Corps this week stated it would be ready within two weeks with the specifications for the Bayou Cadet (Bayou Caddy) project and indicated a slashing of bid time will probably be sought to hasten dredging commencement.

Local sources said it is their understanding the Corps now intend to top the dredged material utilized to fill the

Dear Mr. Cuevas

I want to extend my sincere appreciation and gratitude to the entire staff of the Sea Coast Echo The Sunday. May 29th edition containing the special "Heritage" publication was a beautiful tribute to our own Bay-Waveland area

Lunderstand that Mrs. Joe Pilet spent some 6-7 months of hard work and long hours in organizing this outstanding edition. Her efforts are well received and a hearty "thank-you" is certainly

I'd also like to express credit to all other involved in the successful production: THE EDITORIAL STAFF, PRINTERS, CARRIERS, AND EVERYONE WHO WORKED SO DILIGENTLY TO MAKE THIS SPECIAL EDITION WHAT IT IS. Last, but certainly not least, I recognize generously gave of themselves to contribute by means of donations: photographs, verbal descriptions and their personal family histories which so vividly depict the heritage of this county I'm sure there are many people besides me who can feel a sense of pride evoked by this newspaper. Although I'm not a native of this area, it has held a special meaning for me all of my life. Now that I am fortunate enough to finally call Bay St. Louis "my home," I have a momento of an historic tale of what this town is all about. It will bring great pleasure to share with my children someday the town that brought me such happiness. As a teacher, I know this edition will prove a valuable learning material. Understanding begins at home, and from this concept extends itself beyond boundaries. No history book could better supply the knowledge and appreciation for this

The decision to switch from a current mixed bag of leases to a steady timber sale income came folloiwing as presentration of proposed lease policies by Education Superintendent Terrell Randolph.

conversion into timber lands. Profits from the sale of such timber will be used by the county school system for Clayton, in his letter, states that he and Frank Spencer, are to visit each county having 16th Section lands and that during their visit the pair will discuss leasing procedures and other management practices currently being utilized in Hancock.

Randolph was to report back to the supervisors on Monday with the answer to his proposals from the board of education, an item not obtained prior to his bringing them before the supervisors in the first instance.

The school board was not given opportunity to accept or reject the proposals this week as their meeting fell on a state holiday, meaning that while they could discuss issues they could take no official action.

The proposals deal with homestead and agricultural leases, as well as recreational and commercial leases, all designed, according to Randolph, to increase revenues to the school system.

In other matters supervisors on Monday heard County Coroner Carl Banderet again ask for the establishment of a county morgue.

Banderet said the accidental. drownings over the weekend clearly show the need for such a facility, 'a facility he had repeatedly sought from the supervisors.

He said that a "four drawer" type refrigerated unit could be had for $7,483 unless the price had increased since last spring when he asked for the quotation. The coroner said that such a unit could be installed in the civil defense headquarters at the Valena C. Jones Civic Center on Old Spanish Trail and that he would personally undertake the maintenance and cleaning responsibilities. He said it had been necessary to rapidly identify the victims of the weekend's drowning mishap and to promptly call the New Orleans funeral directors to come and convey the remains to that city due to there being no morgue. Supervisors agreed with Banderet and asked him to contact both the City of Bay St Louis and the City of Waveland to obtain an indication as to whether or not they would be willing to assume part of the cost. Banderet also once again broached the question of a replacement for his present ranger, Lesil Dedeaux, who he says lacks time to adequately perform the functions expected of him. Alton A. Kellar, president, county supervisors, said that the problem perhaps lay in determining what could be expected of a man earning just $125 per month. James N. Travirca, supervisor of

Beat 5, said the sum was just a base as the ranger also got "...fees for cows.." meaning that additional income was earned from the penning up of stray animals and the like.

The matter was tabled until it is determined whether the sheriff will deputize the proposed replacement ranger, and until a letter of resignation could be obtained from Dedeaux. In another, unrelated matter, Perry

Gibson, appointee to the new McLeod Park Commission appeared to seek a description of his duties and details concerning an intitial meeting. He said he wanted to do a proper job but lacked information. After hearing Beat 4 Supervisor Sam Perniciaro tell how vandals had already torn up the new main entrance to the park they asked their attorney. Sam Favre, to call the initial park commission session.

Gibson said he was not at this time too interested in the "nuts and bolts" of the operation but in the organization. A suggestion advanced that he call the first meeting was quickly declined. with Gibson stating he in no way wanted to be elected chairman. Gibson has just completed serving as president of the Mississippi State Park

Several appointments were made by supervisors Monday, with a complete slate being appointed to the County Welfare Board, Here named were: Mrs. Mitty Breland, Beat 1; Delmar Wilcox, Beat 2; Mrs. Frances Franckieweicz, Beat 3; Mrs. Vincent Piazza. Beat 4; Emile Hazeur, Beat 5.

Aimes Kergosien was appointed to a further term on the county planning commission.

to the fire rating bureau concerning a reduction in the rate as soon as the new center and equipment was brought on

Still in final stages of completion on their sewer project, Waveland on Tuesday decided not to lessen their demands on the bonding company, who were called in to complete the task, but if necessary to contact its president on a direct basis should further negotiations with the area agent prove unbeneficial to the city.

Mayor John Longo, Jr., told council the company had agreed to fix about 90 percent of the punch list but some of the now disallowed items would definately have to be undertaken under the terms of the bond

On a split 3-1 vote, with the mayor verbally siding in favor, council permitted a reversion to previous city hall operating hours.

In an attempt to stimulate downtown business on Wednesday afternoons, the city earlier this year voted to experiment with opening Wednesday afternnon, in addition to their offering Saturday morning service.

Alderman Charles Johnson was against the reversion saying that "...the longer we let business die, the harder it is to rejuvenate."

City Hall office employees were on hand en mass to appeal the full day mid-week opening saying that they had practically no customers and that Coleman Ave. "..was dead." on Wednesday afternoons. Johnson agreed saying that such was

".. well put.." and that by keeping City Hall open he hoped it would encourage people to come down and do some Alderman Dan Campion said that there was just nothing going on but that if the post office started to close on Saturday, as was now being suggested, then they may have to look at an all day Wednesday operation in City Hall, but with everything closed on Wednesdays it was a "...waste of time."

Longo cited the Saturday morning opening as a "super convenience" to the city's customers but failed to see the wisdom of continuing the Wednesday afternoon experiment.

opponents in his race for councilman of Ward III. In Tuesday's election, he received 295 votes. The closest race was in Ward IV where three candidates battled for the council. Fred Wagner emerged as the lone GOP representative on the new council as he defeated Sheldon M. Seuzeneau, Sr., a Democrat, and Raymond J. Thomas, an Independent. Wagner collected 327 votes, Seuzeneau 253 and Thomas 108.

Buccaneer Crew Notes

BY LEIGH KOHNKE

Well, it's summertime again - America's recreation time. And Buccaneer Park is no exception. Planned activities started last weekend and we at the park look forward to an entire summer of fun.

A tennis tournament was planned as our first activity. In the coolness of Friday night, 17 participants battled for top honors. In the adult division (16 and over) a 16 year-old took it - Steve Bohnet from New Orleans. Second place was taken by Wayne Gover, 34, from Slidell.

A field day provided two hours of fun on the beach in front of the park. Frisbee, races, relays, and tug-of-war contests were staged and points awarded to each winner. After 10 events, Richard Patorno, 12, from New Orleans emerged the winners. Gary Funel, 14, from St. Bernard took second; and Darren Crochet, 8, from Metairle took third.

Saturday night was spent in an adult ping-pong tournament. David Ward, 25, of Pass Christian was undefeated and Wayne Gover took another second.

Sunday, volleyball in the pool and puppetry were enjoyed. Future plans include craft sessions, making hanging flower pot holders, wire sculpture, greeting cards; movies; lectures; dances; music; fishing rodeo; nature craft; and as many fun things we can possibly plan. A warm Waveland welcome is extended to Curtis West, our new assistant superintendent from Columbia. Curt received degrees in Conservation and in Natural Resource Recreation Management from North Carolina State University; and has also worked with the Maryland Park Service before coming to Waveland.

"With the cooperation and support of the community residents we can easily make Buccaneer Park the best in the state.

JUNE DAIRY MONTH

This June marks the forty-first celebration of Dairy Month time set aside to honor the dairy industry. The role of the dairy industry should not be minimized; it creates many jobs and opportunities for fellow Mississippians.

The industry generates an estimated $200,000,000 of economic activity each year in our state. The Mississippi Employment Security Commission estimates that about 90 firms are engaged in the processing, manufacturing and distribution of milk and milk products in Mississippi. These firms account for more than 2,000 employees with an annual payroll of more than $18,000,000

The cash receipts received by Mississippi farmers from the marketing of milk and milk products in Mississippi. These firms account for more than 2,000 employees with an annual payroll of more than $18,000,000.

The cash receipts received by Mississippi farmers from the marketing of milk and milk products amounted to a record $86,197,000. When the value of milk used on farm is included. the total farm value amounts to $89,139,000. Mississippi farmers marketed 834 million pounds of milk last year. About 98 percent of the milk marketed was Grade A or fluid milk. The average received by Mississippi farmers was $10.34 per hundredweight. Too, the dairy industry provided milk and milk products for only about 2 percent of our disposable personal income. Fluid milk and cream make up about half of our dairy purchases. The total number of dairy herds has been decreasing. Grade

A herds in the state as of December of last year totaled 1,139. Herds producing for manufacturing purposes dropped to about Total milk production in the state has declined, as has the number of milk cows. Last year, milk produced amounted to 862 million pounds while the number of milk cows averaged

Dairy farmers have, however, made significant gains in milk produced per cow. A record of 7,431 pounds was established

The dairy farmer must have many talents. He must milk his cows at least twice a day each day of the year-including Saturdays, Sundays, Christmas, and New Years. June Dairy Month is an appropriate salute for the dairy industry in Mississippi.

Fiddler to play on the roof June 22-25

produced by Laurie Byrd, and June 22-25. Curtain time will be 8.15 p.m. The Broadway hit musical features such tunes as If I were a rich man, Sunrise, Sunset, and Matchmaker and a host of other melodies.

Leading a star-studded cast. Dan Griffon will play Tevye, and Sandy Sharp will portray his wife, Golde.

Tevye is a poor man. He has only his family and a devotion to Jewish traditions to comfort him. But how can he cope with changes in his traditions when a daugher wishes to marry a radical student instead of allowing the local matchmaker her opportunity of plying her trade, to the expulsion of his entire village from Czarist Russia?

Tvye may be poor in money and property but his is a rich man too. When his traditions begin to crumble he and his friends elevate misfortune into a liberating quest for freedom. There is a fiddler playing sweet music in the little village of Anatevka - a Fiddler on the Roof.

Southeast Mississippi is known for its hot, humid summers. Air conditioners bring comfort - but they also bring higher electric service bills. In fact, Mississippi Power's typical residential customer uses twice as many kilowatt-hours of electricity in the summer months as in April. We want to help you get the greatest possible value from your electric service dollar. These air conditioning suggestions may help.

THERMOSTAT SETTING

A few degrees will make a big difference! For greater efficiency and less cost during the summer, set the thermostat at the highest comfortable temperature, usually about 78 degrees or higher. As shown by the chart at right, the difference between maintaining 78 degrees and 72 degrees can increase energy consumption as much as 63 percent.

FILTER MAINTENANCE

Clean or change the air conditioning filter at least once a month more frequently if necessary. A dirty or clogged filter will make your air conditioning unit work harder and use more electricity. A dirty filter may lead to serious and expensive repairs.

GENERAL OPERATION

If your air conditioner has been shut off during a cool night, give it an early start the next morning before a new day's heat fills the house. But remember, when starting the unit, don't set the thermostat on a colder-than-normal setting. This will only make the unit run longer, not cool any faster.

FREE PASSAGE OF AIR

Don't block the air flow the equipment needs. Keep shrubbery trimmed around the air conditioning equipment. Inside, make certain that you keep window drapes and furniture out of air flow path.

ENERGY EFFICIENCY RATIO

If you replace or add a cooling unit, select one with a high energy efficiency ratio (EER). The higher the EER number, the more efficient the cooling unit. Generally, an EER number of 7.5 or better is con-

EQUIPMENT INSPECTION

It's a good idea to have your air conditioning equipment inspected by a qualified serviceman at the beginning of the cooling season. You could prevent an expensive repair bill later. And remember, an air conditioning unit in proper working condition will mean better efficiency and lower operating costs.

You'll find many other ideas about the wise use of electricity in our newly-revised "Energy Management Handbook".
